County Tax Structure Due State AG Scrutiny

Randall County's controversial tax structure will be scrutinized by the state attorney general.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said Tuesday he will ask the attorney general to consider the county tax structure and determine whether or not the structure is legal and constitutional.

Dowlen said it may take between four weeks and six months to receive an opinion from the attorney general's office in Austin.

County Judge Woody Pond said Tuesday he thinks it "would be a good idea to get one (an attorney general opinion on legality of the structure)."

He indicated he initiated the request to Dowlen to seek the ruling.

County commissioners, particularly lame duck commissioner Bill Butler, who presented the plan to implement the current tax structure in late June, have been adamant in refusing to admit the structure is illegal.

The Butler plan implemented by tax collector Mrs. Audrey Bruse a month ago raised rural tax percentages to 85 per cent of 100 per cent fair market value. Subdivision tax percentages were also raised while tax percentages on homes within Canyon or Amarillo were left at the 85 per cent level. Industrial property remained on the tax rolls at 100 per cent of fair market value.

A recent court case in Dallas indicated taxpayers disgruntled by the unequal tax system had little recourse through the courts. The case proved up the maxim that the burden of proof of significant damages due to the taxing system lies with the taxpayer.

In most cases, the implementation of the illegal tax structure meant a less than $10 tax hike for rural and subdivision residents.

Randall County commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, have heard only a handful of complaints from residents, most of them dealing with mistakes or errors on the tax rolls.

Commissioners will meet again at 2 p.m. Monday as a board of equalization to hear further complaints.

Along with the tax structure, Butler also proposed a total revaluation of all county property to be completed in four years with one-fourth of the property to be reappraised each year.

Cite 'False Issue' Blame

Locals Are Disappointed With Con-Con

Local officials who had a hand in formation of a revised Texas Constitution, which failed to pass muster of a two-thirds majority of delegates in Austin Tuesday, viewed failure of the constitution with disappointment this week.

Delegates refused to budge late Tuesday to pass a revised basic charter which would have faced voter sanction or disapproval in November.

"I'm extremely disappointed," Dr. Travis McBride, head of the political science department at West Texas State University, said this week. McBride had testified before constitutional convention committees early in their revision effort.

County Judge Woody Pond, who travelled to Austin many times since Jan. 8 to lobby against provisions which might have changed the nature of county courts, indicated he feels the people should have had an opportunity to vote on the charter, but probably would have nixed the document in November anyway.

"I feel that the issue which apparently brought about its defeat was, as described by local delegates and the president of the convention, a false issue," McBride said. "I refer to the right-to-work provision attached to the constitution.

"It was a false issue because first of all, we prohibit the closed shop or agency shop under state legislation of 1947. It's already prohibited in Texas.

"Second, it was a false issue because many think it was being used either now or later to embarrass the Democrats in Texas, making them take a position on it. And, if the Democrats supported it, then they were going to be embarrassed before their labor supporters in the fall election. If they didn't support it, they could be criticized by the conservative faction. Some feel it was an issue built up primarily for political purposes."

Even so, McBride said, "I can't believe the conservatives and the liberals let this new constitution die because of that issue."

McBride said in the long run both liberals and conservatives and the people of Texas would have benefitted from a new constitution.

While right-to-work was apparently a major issue in the defeat of the constitution, McBride said some other articles also held particular trouble for some delegates.

Conservatives, he said, were not satisfied that a limit was not placed on welfare spending by the state, and some were not satisfied with the education article.

McBride said there were many good aspects to the proposed constitution. The number of words in the document was drastically reduced and the wording itself was of a non-legal and non-technical nature.

In addition, the charter would have given more power to the governor, power he needs to head the state, the professor said.

The constitution would have basic changes in the structure of the court system in the state, placing all courts under the Supreme Court with one

City's Water Usage Figures Not Up Even With Hot, Dry Weather

Even though Canyon has received only half the amount of moisture normally received through rainfall this year, city water usage figures have not sky-rocketed here as they have in other Panhandle towns.

In fact, figures indicate Canyon residents will have used less water this summer to water lawns or fill swimming pools than they did during the same period last summer, when during the spring months the city experienced heavy rains.

"We're not setting any records," said City Water Supt. Robert Rogers. "You'd think we would be the way everybody's talking about a drought."

Rogers said the light rains which have fallen in the city since spring have apparently come at opportune times to reduce demand from the city water field. Rainfall patterns and water-usage patterns, he said, suggest the rains have come at times when water was badly needed and turned back consumer use of city water.

Even with several days during June and July with temperatures soaring past the 100-degree mark, city water usage has not reached the level it reached in 1973.

High day for water usage last summer saw 4.4 million gallons of water pumped to Canyon homes and businesses. So far this summer, the high day total has been 3.7 million gallons.

Rogers feels the city's water system has seen the maximum it's going to see this summer as water usage begins tapering off during August and September.

Generally, he said, July is the peak month for water usage.

"But, it just hasn't been that high," he said. "It amazes me we haven't pumped any more water than we have for as hot and dry as it's been."

Figures indicate July 1974 may see about 3 million gallons more water pumped than in July 1973, when about 72 million gallons served city homes and businesses. In June of 1973, 85 million gallons were pumped, compared with only 65 million gallons pumped this past June.

Weather figures provided by the Canyon Fire Department, official U.S. Weather Service observers for the city, indicate local residents have experienced 100-degree or 100-degree-plus temperatures nine days this summer. The temperature soared to 105 degrees on July 24 after hitting 102 the day before. In June the temperature reached the 100-degree mark five times in the latter part of the month.

Rainfall in Canyon has totalled 5.72 inches for the first seven months of the year. That compares with normal average rainfall for the Amarillo-Canyon area of 11.51 inches for the first seven months.

Since last August, Canyon residents have received only a little more than 10 inches of rain. Normal rainfall figures indicate about 20 inches of rain falls in the normal year in the area.

Whatever Happened To The Energy Crisis?

Whatever happened to the energy crisis?

Even though national officials and local experts agree the energy crisis, which began last fall, is still with us and may lead to worse shortages this winter, local residents are apparently unimpressed.

Tourism is at an all-time high as tourists consume 50-cent gasoline to cover long distances. Home fuel usage is up to all-time highs. And, gas stations report they're selling their product like nobody's business.

The energy crisis has had no noticeable effect on crowds at the musical-drama "TEXAS," which plays nightly during the summer in Palo Duro Canyon State Park and which annually draws thousands to this part of the state.

Drama officials report that "cars and buses are finding their way to (the park) for performances of "TEXAS'."

At the halfway mark of the season, attendance was up 5 per cent from the record-breaking numbers which saw the show last summer. A total of 44,281 persons had seen the show through the first half.

More than a fourth of the crowd comes from a distance of more than 500 miles with very little change in the percentage from years past.

Forty per cent of those attending come from within 100 miles of the canyon and 30 per cent come from within a 100-500-mile radius. The figures vary only two to three percentage points from figures in 1972 and 1973.

One local service station owner made a typical report on the demand for his products: "I'm selling more than I sold last summer. It's (the energy crisis) not slowing them down any."

Few cars on the U.S. 87 freeway between Canyon and Amarillo can be seen to be driving the legal 55-miles-per-hour speed limit.

Taxpayers Lucky To Live Here, Tax Comparison Figures Indicate

Despite recent complaints about the county tax system and the probability that school district taxes will be raised this year, Canyon residents are lucky they live here in terms of taxes they pay.

Tax figures recently compiled on the taxes Canyon residents pay to various local taxing entities compare more than favorably with taxes paid in Amarillo and 30 major cities across the United States.

A major national magazine recently published a table indicating that of the 30 major cities in the country, Houston and Dallas in Texas had the lowest tax burden for residents. Canyon residents pay far fewer taxes than residents of either of those cities and far less than do Amarillo residents.

Figures compiled to compare the 30 major cities and Amarillo and Canyon were based on the taxes which would be paid by a family of four with an annual income of $25,000.

Included are city, state and local taxes on residential property and an automobile, state income tax and state sales tax.

The table indicates the residents of Boston are hit the hardest on tax burden. A family of four in Boston pays $4108. In Dallas, the figure is $860 and in Houston the total is $795. Residents of Amarillo pay $768. And, in Canyon, residents pay $574.

Even though the total tax burden for Canyon residents is less than the burden for big city dwellers, local officials say they believe the tax burden has little to do with the growth of the city.

"I've only had one inquiry since I've been city manager from a prospective resident who inquired about the tax rate," City Manager George Loudder said. "I just don't think it's a big factor."

Roland Black, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said he receives many inquiries each year concerning the tax burden in Canyon. Yet, he said he feels the taxes are not a major factor in inducing new residents.

Both Black and Loudder agreed that the tax burden may be a major factor in the future in the attraction of industry to the city.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

I agree with Dr. Barry Duman of the West Texas State University economics department that thinking the American people will voluntarily accept austerity is not only unworkable but downright foolish.

I think a lot of our economic problems may be traced directly to lack of confidence in the people who rule.

The American people have been hoodwinked and lied to so much that they just don't believe anymore. One of the prime factors in economic progress is confidence.

Lack of it is being registered in the stock market.

Whether the President is impeached or not, the scars of the impeachment proceedings will be long with us.

Wheels of government have ground almost to a halt as lawmakers decide on the fact of Richard M. Nixon and this at a time when strong hands are needed.

Who is left to lead?

Nixon, innocent or guilty, he will have a hard time leading in the years left of his term.

Ford, he may surprise me but he doesn't appear to have the moxy for the job.

Connally, discredited in the milk scandal with his political future in a shambles.

Humphrey, caught with a $100,000 diamond belonging to the people of the U.S. in his safe with no apparent intent to return it until he was at bay.

Ted Kennedy, Chappaquidick. enough said.

George Wallace, he will play a role in the 1976 Democratic convention but I do not see him as the standard bearer.

At this moment I do not see a single Republican who could even be groomed into presidential material.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen is being named more and more frequently as the Democrat to watch. By and large the American people know little about him except that he is a member of an extremely wealthy Texas family.

Con-con bombed out. I was not surprised and I am thankful that it did.

Sending legislators to write a constitution is like sending a goat to guard the cabbage. The constitution is the rule book by which legislators must play and it should be the document which safeguards the people.

This column has called for a constituent assembly from the outset.

We have an interesting race looming before us between Bryan Poff and Connally Lockhart for the 47th District judgeship.

Poff, a legislator who did not seek re-election, easily defeated veteran attorney O.M. Calhoun in the Democratic primary.

He now faces Lockhart, a Republican, in the general election set for November.

Church Life

The church will pay half the cost for members of the United Methodist Church of Canyon who desire to participate in the "creative years camp" to be held at the Ceta Canyon Campgrounds August 12-15. The camp is for church members and non-members who have already observed their 60th birthday or beyond. Camp registration begins at 2:30 p.m. August 12.

Attending the Bible Memory Camp in Louisiana from the Grace Baptist Church of Canyon this week are Reavis Kerr and his children including daughters, Kathy, Marilyn and Virginia and sons, Tim and Paul. Paul has been working with the camp activities for a major portion of the summer.

The Baptist Student Union is sponsoring a "calvary charge" Friday evening beginning at 8:30 p.m. at Cottonwood Grove in Palo Duro Canyon which will include music, fellowship and games. The activity will conclude around 9:45 p.m.

Late summer Vacation Bible School will be held at Grace Baptist Church of Canyon beginning August 12 with classes at 7:30 p.m. each evening that week.

Central Church of Christ expects to have mission work reports late this fall from the Joe Watsons who have been in South Africa and the Herman Alexanders in Australia. Both Watson and Alexander are former ministers of the congregation here.

Camp Summer Life has a roster of 100 persons already signed up to participate beginning August 5, according to the bulletin of First Baptist Church of Canyon.

Rt. Rev. Willis R. Henton, Bishop of Northwest Texas, was the celebant at Holy Eucharist Sunday, July 28, at the Chapel of St. George (Episcopal University Center).

Becky Blewett is Craft Activity Leader for the Camp Summer Life of First Baptist Church to begin August 5. She reports that some craft supplies are needed as the craft activities will include about 100 persons each day of the camp through August 11. Among items needed are a hot plate, used candles, all colors of yarn, and newspapers. Persons wishing to aid Becky with the craft collection of materials may contact her at 655-7658 or bring the materials by the local church offices.

Tower Move

Workmen began Wednesday morning moving the controversial radio tower from the downtown square to its permanent site at the Randall County barn in north Canyon.

The tower, laying in several pieces on the square, was to be moved by Wednesday afternoon.

It connects Randall County sheriff's deputies with other sheriff departments in the Panhandle area. Canyon police will also be hooked into the tower and other new radio equipment due to be installed in the sheriff's dispatcher room.

The tower was originally to have been placed on the square, but efforts by local merchants and city commissioners persuaded county commissioners to authorize the move.

Calvary Charge Is BSU Rally

The Baptist Student Union of West Texas State University will sponsor a youth rally titled "Calvary Charge" on Friday evening, August 2, at the Cottonwood Grove in Palo Duro Canyon.

Service will begin at 8:30 p.m. with featured speakers to include, Bob Ball, youth director of Bell Avenue Baptist Church; Steve Garms, music and youth director of Pleasant Valley Baptist Church; Stan Hurlen, youth director of Second Baptist Church; and Jennifer McTeak of Paramount Baptist Church.

The evening will include music, fellowship and recreation and all are invited to participate.

Six Pond Brothers Gather At Reunion

The six Pond brothers who are sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pond, early day pioneers of Wheeler County, gathered at the Canyon Community Center on Sunday, July 21, for a reunion dinner and visiting.

Included among the brothers were C. H. Pond of Amarillo, A. B. Pond of Canyon, George Pond of Pampa, J. T. Pond of Spearman, Harley Pond of Stinnett and Woody Pond of Canyon.

Accompanied by their wives, the six brothers were joined by their children and grandchildren for the event.

Also visiting with the brothers were an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rittenhouse of Austin; an aunt, Mrs. Bell Rodey of Baytown; and a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Broussard, also of Baytown.

Museum Series Still On

Charlie Chaplin's renowned characterization in "The Tramp" and the first cartoon ever made, "Gertie the Dinosaur," were the afternoon fare Sunday at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

The museum, located on the southern edge of the West Texas State University campus, has been sponsoring weekly programs to broaden the scope of history it makes available to the public.

Earlier this summer, museum audiences have viewed "The Perils of Pauline," a 1914 Tom Mix classic "In the Days of the Thundering West," and famed cowboy star William S. Hart's "The Return of Draw Egan."

Show times are at 2:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. in the basement of the museum annex. Movie-goers will have a special treat soon when seven antique automobiles will be moved for display on the annex's first floor.

The Sunday afternoon series will run until the end of summer. There is no admission charge.

The August 4 feature will be a slide show presentation "The Masters of the Plains," a discussion on the Plains Indians by Mrs. Martha Crabb of Dumas.

Reading Conference Set At WT

Dr. William K. Durr of Michigan State University and Claud Zevely of West Texas State University will address general sessions of the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading conference at WTSU Tuesday and Wednesday.

TAIR conferences "reveal new techniques and knowledge to the classroom teacher," says Dr. Hellon Wilbur, WTSU TAIR representative.

"The exhibits give teachers a chance to find out what's new in reading," she said. "Some school systems give these two days as in-service training."

Dr. Durr, a past-president of the International Reading Association, is scheduled to speak to the 22nd annual WTSU TAIR conference at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday and at noon Wednesday.

He will discuss "The Teacher: The Key To Success" and "Reading for the Disadvantaged and Gifted."

Zevely is associate professor of education at WTSU and director of the University Center for Exceptional and Handicapped Children. At 2 p.m. Tuesday he will speak on "Exploring the Vicissitude of Life Through Prose and Poetry," and will discuss "Profiles and Portraits of Reading: Parents and Kids" at 8:45 Wednesday.

All sessions, except Wednesday afternoon, are in the Activities Center on the WTSU campus.

Luncheons will be in the Buffalo Room of East Dining Hall. Tuesday visiting administrators will be honored at a noon luncheon.

Wednesday a buffet beginning at noon will precede Dr. Durr's address. Persons unable to attend the buffet who wish to hear the address should be in the Buffalo Room by 1 p.m.

Over 70 publishing company representatives will display books and other teaching materials in Room 101 of the AC from 8 a.m. until 3:45 p.m. Tuesday and from 8 a.m. until noon Wednesday.

Nine sectional meetings are scheduled from 11 a.m. until noon Tuesday. Included among these is a 30-minute film, "Special Interest to Parents." The program includes an interview in which Dr. Durr answers questions of interest to parents.

Registration begins at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday in the Activities Center. General sessions begin at 8:45 a.m. both mornings. Fees are $5 for two days or $3 for one day. Students enrolled in the second summer session at WTSU will be charged $1 per day.

More than 600 teachers, parents and students attended sessions of the TAIR conference last year at WTSU.

Dr. Durr taught the third and eighth grades and served as an elementary superintendent before going to Michigan State University where he is now Professor of Education.

He wrote "The Gifted Child," "Reading Instruction: Dimensions and Issues," and he served as senior author of the "Houghton Mifflin Readers" and the "Reading Skills Lab." Durr also has authored and edited two books for the International Reading Association.

Before coming to WTSU in 1966, Zevely taught in elementary, junior and senior high schools, and was a public school administrator, reading coordinator and curriculum director. He is a consultant for the University of Texas Extension Service.

TAIR Panhandle Council President is Majorie Gant of Pampa, and Dr. Hellon Wilbur, WTSU Professor of Education, is the college representative. President-elect is Cecile Russell of Amarillo.

Further information is available from Dr. Hellon Wilbur, Box 1004, W.T. Station, Canyon 79016, or by telephone, 656-3259.

Demo. Official Ruffles Commission Feathers

A Randall County Democratic party leader ruffled the feathers of the predominantly Democratic county commission Monday with an attack on the competency of Tax Collector Mrs. Audrey Bruse, a Republican.

Marion Bruce, county chairman of the Democratic Party, provoked commissioners with strong criticism of the tax office operations during a session of the board of equalization following a special Monday commission meeting.

Bruce later apologized to the commissioners and Mrs. Bruse.

He was one of only a handful of persons appearing before commissioners to complain of a recent raise in taxes for a half-section of land he owns in the north part of the county.

Bruce referred to several alleged mistakes made by the tax office on his property description and value and then turned to Mrs. Bruse:

"Are you sure you're competent to be tax collector?" he asked.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi, a Republican, reddened noticeably, whipped his eyeglasses from his nose and turned his chair toward Bruce.

"Now, that was uncalled for," he challenged.

"Now, everybody just hold up a minute," said County Judge Woody Pond, trying to maintain order. "This is not the place for that."

"If I can't discuss any errors or problems I have here I may as well not even come in here," Bruce complained.

Apparently calmed, Bruce proceeded to outline his problems and left the board meeting shortly after tendering an apology to the court and Mrs. Bruse.

Commissioners also heard complaints from a rural couple who complained they receive no significant services commensurate with the tax increase on their property.

Commissioners Jim Fletcher and Bill Butler pointed out that for years city residents have borne the brunt of the tax burden in the county while receiving none of the tangible benefits of county services. They noted that rural residents receive sheriff protection and road maintenance which city residents do not receive.

During the regular session of commissioners court, the commissioners gave a tentative look at a petition submitted by Santa Fe Railway and Affiliated Grocers Inc., to close a road adjacent their property in the north portion of the county.

The petition will be considered for action at next Monday's meeting.

Commissioners also learned that new state law requirements will cause even more cost increases to operation of the tax office in the notification of persons whose addresses have changed and must be changed on voter registration rolls.

Mrs. Bruse, responsible for voter registration, could give no estimate on how much increase would be caused by the requirements.

In other business, the commissioners named Lanell Blagg as temporary manager of the tax office in South Amarillo.

12 Indicted By Jurors

Twelve persons were indicted by a Randall County grand jury Monday.

They included: Tommy Fuentes, charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle; Patricio T. Candelaria, charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle; Scott J. Shirey, charged with burglary with intent to commit theft; Johnny Mark Hall, charged with possession of marijuana of more than four ounces; George Harold Harrison, charged with aggravated assault by deadly weapon; Larry Wayne Sanders, charged with theft over $10,000; Jesse G. Sandoval, charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle; Ismael G. Olguin, charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle; Mark Allen Young, charged with burglary with intent to commit theft; Ricky Reynolds Vaughn, charged with burglary with intent to injure a child; Charles Howard Foster Jr., charged with theft of more than $200 but less than $10,000.

Groundbreaking Set For Tuesday

Groundbreaking for construction of a new $1.4 million city hall will be held at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the construction site.

All local residents are invited to the ceremonies, which will feature shovel-turning and brief speeches by local city commissioners and other dignitaries.

City commissioners will meet at 5:30 p.m. in regular session and will recess for the groundbreaking.

Construction on the new city hall, which will house a fire department, police station, library and general administrative services, is expected to begin within the next two weeks with dirt moving activity.

Construction is to be completed within just over one year.

Girl Scout To Sportlight Camp

Amy White, a Canyon Girl Scout, has been accepted along with 132 other Cadette and Senior Scouts from 40 states to participate in a summer scout camping experience at Camp Archbald in the Endless Mountains of Northeastern Pennsylvania.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. White, Amy will be a ninth grade student at Canyon Junior High School this fall. She has been an active Girl Scout for eight years and received the invitation from Scranton Pocono Girl Scout Council in Pennsylvania for the camp to be held August 2-18.

The invitation was to "Paddle canoes or ping-pong balls, ride horses, bicycles or sailboats, and swing golf clubs, softball bats or on the parallel bars" at the host council's Camp Archibald. The purpose of "Sportlight" is to provide older Girl Scouts the opportunity to explore a wide range of land and water sports; clarifying values pertaining to sportsmanship; and to investigate related career opportunities.

As a camper, Amy will be living with girls from 40 states in various cabins, tent units and even houseboats on 20-acre Lake Ely. In addition to her athletic activities, Amy will be authentically dressed in Texas western duds which were a gift of her father, a rancher, including the traditional boots.

Amy will depart on Trans World Airlines Flight 346 Aug. 2 for Pittsburgh and then travel to Scranton, Penn., for the camping adventure.

Phebean Class Has Luncheon At Campgrounds

Phebean Sunday School Class met at the Baptist Campgrounds for annual July luncheon recently with 11 members and five guests attending the meeting including Mrs. Ed Weeks, president, who had her two sisters, Mrs. H.T. King of Fresno, Calif., and Mrs. Odessa Crumpton of Quanah, as guests.

Other guests attending were Margaret Wilkerson of Canyon, Treasure Brasher and little miss Marla Hartman.

Following the luncheon, a brief business meeting was held including roll call and a reading of the secretary's minutes, and a treasurer's report by Mrs. T. B. Cox. A devotional on "nature" was given by Mrs. Lee Allen and members collected donations for a ministerial student as a project. No meeting will be held in August, but the group set the September meeting to be held with Mrs. Ed Reynolds.

The nominating committee was selected to include Mesdames Ed Weeks, Leonard Winters, Elmer Marshall, Ed Reynolds and Earl Davis.

Mrs. Earl Davis was in charge of the program as she discussed the background stories of several hymns which were then sung by guest, Treasure Brasher. The program was closed with a prayer by Mrs. Martha Goodman.

Attending were Mesdames Lee Allen, T. B. Cox, Earl Davis, Carl Hartman, Ona May McMurray, Ed Reynolds, Joe Baber, A. K. Goodman, Leonard Winters, Elmer Marshall and Ed Weeks.

Awaiting the arrival of the infant were an older brother, Bret, and the grandparents, R.A. Ledmon of Martha, Okla. and Mrs. Lorene Errington of Wheeler, Texas.

Slaves Raise Funds

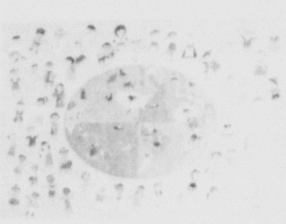
"Slaves" from the Junior High United Methodist Youth Fellowship raised $43.50 doing odd jobs for city residents last weekend. They were involved in a number of jobs including such things as washing windows, washing dishes, washing cars, babysitting, cleaning house, pulling weeds and mowing lawns.

Visitin' Folks

Mrs. Michael L. Miller of Canyon was in Olton to visit with her sister, Mrs. George Richards, and with a friend, Rachel Ruthart, and families recently.

The Archie Scotts of Canyon were in Borger to visit with her brother, Tommy Musser, and family recently.

Mrs. Wm. R. Wilson recently had her granddaughters, Kima and Kelli McLarty, of Carrollton for a visit here along with their mother, Mrs. Lynn McLarty.



MUSHROOMS AND ARTWORK have been the projects of Vacation Bible School for the 4-5 year olds at Calvary Baptist Church this week. The class shows some of their projects which were on display during VBS Open House last Sunday, July 28, at 7 p.m. in the various classrooms. About 65 have been enrolled in the church summer school activities at the church this week.

Will-It-Ever-End Greetings:

SPEAKING WE ARE of this long, long summer. Not that summer isn't a simply marvelous time of the year. It is. It's just that this summer has been a busy summer. What with going here to lessons. There to lessons. Here to this. There to that. Feel like I was born in the car. Am feeling rather smug this summer, though.

As a matter of fact, have really whipped up on last summer's list-of-things-to-accomplish. Didn't even bother to make a new list.

Last year's was still hanging around haunting and taunting. Have decided that it's a lot less troublesome (and quieter) to have the young ones in school. Paid a visit to the gasoline station and to the grocery store all in the same day last week. Was in traumatic shock and had the shakes for two days thereafter. Have decided to wait 'til the shock wears off from one or the other before visiting one or the other. Am apparently still not functioning too well.

The day is coming, though. Mother's Liberation Day! Hooray! Wednesday, August 21st, a beautiful summer day, is the first day of school.

Registration, another welcome day (makes it official) will be on Monday, August 19th Upon request, and for one last time: Immunizations required by the state include: Diptheria/Tetanus — at least three doses, one dose since fourth birthday. Polio — minimum of three doses, one dose since fourth birthday. Rubeola (red ones) — one dose of vaccine, or history of measles. Rubella (German ones) — one dose of vaccine.

NOW, FOR THE citizens of Amarillo, the Amarillo City Health Department provides free immunizations on each Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00 to 5:30 p.m. and on the first Monday night of each month from 7:00 to 9:00. The address is 411 South Austin Street. This facility keeps accurate and permanent records of immunizations given there, and is extremely helpful in determining what dose of what is needed.

THERE'S A WEDDING in the air. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Mayfield have announced the upcoming marriage of Sandy to Dwyane Dwyer! The ceremony will take place on August 10th at the Bell Avenue Baptist Church.

Sandy has chosen blue and white as her wedding colors. Sherrie Mayfield will register the guests and share candlelighting honors with her brother Kelly. Rita Mayfield will serve as flower girl, and Angela will serve as one of the maids of honor. Rhonda Hales of Canyon will also be a maid of honor.

Sandy is presently working at the Southwest Convalescent Home as a nurse's aide and is planning on returning to school to complete her training. Dwyane is employed in Amarillo also, where they will make their home. Sincere best wishes to this young couple!

JACKIE MAYFIELD TOOK time out from wedding preparations for a happy birthday party. Honoree was daughter Rita, who turned seven big years old on the 27th of this month.

The party games, party eats and party treats were enjoyed by Dawn Davee, Tracy Betty, Pam Holt, Gay Gibson, Leslie Childers, Marisa Maxwell, Missy Davis and Mindy Davis. Hope all your wishes come true, Rita!

GWYN AND EDGAR Sellers have been involved in some birthday observations, too. Son, Steve, gained the ripe old age of 11 on the 26th of this month.

Steve treated Shannon Edwards, Rusty Riley, David Bromley, Tim Stokes, Scott Davis, Mike Bell and Steve Stokes to a backyard cookout and a trip to the Putt Putt.

The young men came back to the Sellers' home for ice cream and cake and birthday wishes and swats. Many more happies to you, Steve!

THE LOVELY BRENDA Sellers birthdayed on the 31st of this month. She is saving birthday partying until the 3rd, when she and Beverly Smith will hostess a joint pool party. Beverly's big day is on August 6th, so the girls decided to meet half way and celebrate together.

Brenda's taking a busman's holiday on her party day, as she has spent her summer days working at the Riviera. (My goodness, Brenda, what is that on your finger?) Many happies, girls!

THE DON PALMERS have returned from a fun time in the Smoky Mountain region, where they visited the Cherokee Reservation. Raydell was quite intrigued with the history of the village and almost, just almost, wanted to stay behind and enjoy the streams and trees and mountains, etc., etc., etc.

The Palmers had a toe-tapping good time at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, and visited several historical places in Tennessee. The Belle Meade Estate, famous for its race horses drew its fair share of attention from the Palmers, as did the home and tomb of Andrew Jackson. Being history buffs all, the Palmers really found the region informative, as well as enjoyable.

Back home in time for Raydell to attend a budget meeting (of all things) of the hospital district. Now, we would have to say that here is one dedicated auxiliary president.

A VERY SPECIAL "hi" here to a charming young lady, namely Dee Ann Wakefield. Dee is the daughter of Dot and Deral and recently visited in the Darlene Campbell home. The Wakefields live in Denton and joined Dee in visiting here with the Palmers and the Campbells.

JACKIE MADE IT back home! That she did. Daughter Shelley Jobe made it home, too. Jackie and Shelley deserted the man of their home, George, and tootled off to Camp Summer Life for two weeks.

This camp lies in a beautiful mountain setting approximately 18 miles southeast of Taos in New Mexico. Mary Hill of West Texas State University served as director of the Camp Fire girls' summer camp, which was chock full of interesting things to do. Including, but by no means limited to, gymnastics, horse back riding, air riflery, canoeing, pottery, arts and crafts, photography — oh, well, you name it and these Camp Fire girls did it!

Being gratefully relieved of her chores of pottery "teacher," Jackie moved on to other fields. Such as fishing "teacher." Now, this proved to be her "bag," and all her girls earned fishing awards!

In fact, "her girls" became so proficient in baiting, casting, stringing and (ugh) cleaning that they were able to proudly contribute 108 delicious trout for a yum-yum fish fry for all to enjoy! Jackie enjoyed teaching in the arts and crafts sessions, 'cause she got to use the saw. She was also appointed as "store keeper."

The girls set their alarms for 7:30 (in the morning, yet) and were kept busy as little bees all day. Lights out came at 10:15. A welcomed 10:15. After all, a day of horse riding, fishing, hiking, swimming, etc., etc., can be rather tiring.

The almost daily rains failed to daunt their enthusiasm. They enjoyed softball and deck tennis after supper. And, the programs in the lodge included singing and skits.

Shelley Jobe was involved in all these activities, and earned 40 beads for her ceremonial jacket. She also garnered five awards and, a Red Cross swimming award! A two mile hike down the Santa Fe Trail highlighted her camping activities. That and the fun involved in her and another girl getting to camp out all by their lonesomes!

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall.

trict, Randall County and the state. They also pay a 5 per cent sales tax to both city and state.

Altogether, the adjusted composite tax rate in Canyon is $1.6949 per $100 valuation.

In Amarillo, residents pay taxes to the city, Amarillo Hospital District, Amarillo Independent School District, Potter or Randall Counties, the Amarillo Junior College District, and the state. A 5 per cent city and state sales tax is also levied.

Amarillo's composite adjusted rate is 58 per cent higher than is Canyon's.

Figures indicate the average family of four with an income of $25,000, using data used by the major national magazine as a basis, pay $110 in car tax annually, $220 in residential property tax and $244 in sales tax in Canyon. In Amarillo, they pay $174 car tax, $349 residential property tax and $244 sales tax.

In Dallas, the family of four pays $138 car tax, $451 residential property tax and $244 sales tax.

The Dallas resident pays 3.1 per cent of his income in taxes to state and local sources. The same figure applies in Amarillo. Canyon residents pay 2.3 per cent of their income for taxes.

Energy. . .

Service Co. tend to bear out the fact that local residents have ignored or forgotten about the energy shortage situation.

Bob Mills, public relations official for Pioneer, told The News the company set an all-time historic high for gas consumption in May. More gas was consumed than in any month in the history of the firm.

"Our sales are going right along," he noted.

Mills said much of the increase, no doubt, has gone to irrigation farmers, who faced with dry weather, have used more and more fuel to water their crops.

Joe Gidden, local manager of the electric company, said consumption of electricity is running higher this year than last.

"People being the critters they are they crave more and more confort," he said. "Usually those things use more electricity."

Canyon, he said, has shown a steady increase in killowatt hour consumption per customer over the past several years.

"Attitudinally, we don't have an energy crisis," West Texas State Univerity geography professor Bob Sawvell said this week. "The American people have accepted the fact that the energy crisis is past.

"In real terms we have an energy crisis and we're going to have to face that issue within the next two to three years if we continue to ignore it."

Sawvell said the American people have forgotten about the energy shortage situation and have resumed their mad rush to consume the nation's energy resources.

Part of the problem, he indicated, is a matter of priorities. Many persons are caught up in worries over inflation and the national political situation.

"We're so affluent we can afford the cost of energy," he said. "If we can afford it, we'll use it whether we need it or not."

Unfortunately, Sawvell said, most leaders in America have given only lip-service to the energy situation, but little positive has been done to conserve the nation's fuel.

Sawvell is instructor in a resources conservation course at the university.

appellate system.

McBride noted that much of the attention of the state has been focused on a new constitution for nearly two years. Somewhere between $3 and $6 million has been spent to finance revision efforts, he noted.

"Countless people have given of their time voluntarily to work for the revision of the present basic charter," he said. "An enormous amount of money and time has been expended."

Judge Pond, who was successful in persuading delegates not to change the structure of the county court system, said the people had a right to vote on a revised document in November.

"We have something to vote on now," he said. "Some new legislators."

But, he said, he believes the constitution would not have passed voter approval.

BACK TO SCHOOL

With The McAlpin Family...

After summer vacationing in Reynosa, Mexico and McAllen, Tex., the Willie V. McAlpin family has returned to Canyon to begin the fall season at home and are the featured family for the "Back-To-School" section of The Canyon News today.

McAlpin, who begins his seventh year with the Canyon Public School System this fall, is a native of Spur, Tex., and earned both the Bachelor and Master's degrees in education as a student at West Texas State University. He will be assistant high school principal and athletic director at Canyon High School.

His wife, the former Jackie Timberlake of Levelland, earned the Bachelor of Business Administration degree at WTSU and the Master's degree in counselling guidance. She spent four years with the Vocational Office Education program at Canyon High School and for the past two years has been director of a federally funded project at Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McAlpin are active in their professional organizations including the Texas State Teachers Association and National Educators Association where both are life members. She is also active in TPGA and APGA professional organizations and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi alumnae group. In addition to other activities, Mr. McAlpin is a member of the Canyon Lions Club and active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and was summer coach for the White Sox of the Babe Ruth League in Canyon.

The McAlpin family includes two daughters and a son and are active members of the First United Methodist Church here where both daughters are engaged in United Methodist Youth Fellowship Activities at the church.

Stacy, age 14, will be a ninth grade student at Canyon High School this fall and is active in both basketball and choir. She is also a member of the Canyon Rainbow Girls.

Tracy, 12, will be a seventh grade student at Canyon Junior High School this fall and will continue her participation in Band as well as being athletically inclined toward playing basketball.

Youngest of the McAlpins is Kevin, age 7, who will be a second grade student at Rex Reeves Elementary School this fall. Kevin likes a number of things including baseball for which he has a desire to be a member of the Little League teams next summer, since he was the bat boy for his dad's team this season.

Aside from fall, winter and spring involvement in "school and studies" the family enjoys an occasional snow skiing trip for relaxation and are avid sports fans at local athletic events.

Willie McAlpin sports a pair of Justin Elephant boots, Marlboro sheepskin coat, and tops the outfit with a new felt hat by Bailey. Just like Dad, Kevin can find all of his back-to-school needs such as boots, jeans, shirts, belts, and even that special hat at West Texas Western Store.

Western Is The Look For Fall

Western is definitely the fashion look that's in for fall back-to-school clothing.

Wayne Stribling, manager of West Texas Western Store on the square in downtown Canyon, has hats, boots, shirts, pants and winter coats aplenty in preparation for a big-back-to school selection.

Stribling cited sale prices for short-sleeve shirts as an example of the bargains available at West Texas Western Store.

"You get one free with the purchase of two," he said. "All straw hats are 25 per cent off and one group of famous-name pants are now only one-half price."

A special group of ladies pants and tops are as low as one-half off the regular price.

"You'll want to see the new arrivals for school from Tony Lama, Sanders, Bradford and Bailey," he said. "We have some good looking leather and knit sports coats from Pioneer plus the original Marlboro sheepskin coat."

In addition, Stribling noted that "new check pants from Levi and Wrangler are all over the place and the new felts from Bradford and Bailey are running out the front door."

Stribling invited all those local residents interested in savings on back-to-school clothing to come by West Texas Western Store.

EARLY TUESDAY MORNING a balloon was sighted just North of Umbarger.

The crew man on the ground stopped at the store and we asked him what it was all about. He said there were two men and a woman aboard. The woman was representing the National Geographic Society and one of the men was teaching the other man how to pilot the balloon. The instructor was from South Dakota and the student was an ex-Navy man.

The ground man was in a hurry as he had to stay with the balloon, so we did not get much information from him.

It made a pretty picture, floating along so gently in the early morning breeze.

All four tennis courts at WTSU are now laykold courts. Prior to the change ten of the courts were Uniturf. According to David Kent, head tennis coach at WTSU, the university can now host NCAA or Missouri Valley Conference tournaments with no problem. He stated that all tournaments hosted by the university tennis team can now be played in Canyon instead of Amarillo. He said that he is hopeful that the MVC tournament can be held here in 1976.

First Tennis Tournament In Canyon Set Aug. 15

Canyon Open Tennis Tournament, which will be held August 15-18, is the last tournament on the newly formed Panhandle Tennis Tournament Circuit.

According to David Kent, head tennis coach at WTSU, the Panhandle Tennis Circuit is being formed to help localize the area in which many youngsters in the region must travel in order to participate in such tournaments. Kent said that the local tournament will be a good opportunity for Canyon people to "get their feet wet in tournament play." He stated that he feels Canyon people will enjoy the tournament if they will participate.

Entry blanks for the tournament are available at the Tennis Center in Amarillo or from David Kent at the tennis office at WTSU.

The circuit, which includes play in Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, Plainview, Pampa and Canyon, has been in operation since June 13.

In the Canyon Open, a player may enter three events in two divisions. There will be men and women singles and doubles, 18 year old boy and girl singles and doubles, 16 year old boy and girl singles and doubles, 14 year old boy and girl singles and doubles and 12 year old boy and girl singles and doubles. There will also be 35 year old men and women singles and doubles, 45 year old and above men's singles and mixed doubles, father and son and husband and wife divisions.

Singles matches will start at 2 p.m. August 15. Doubles will start the second day. All girls and women matches will be played at the WTSU courts. All men and boys matches will be played at the Amarillo Tennis Center.

Entries for all events will close at 9 p.m. Aug. 12. Fees must accompany entries. No phone entries will be accepted. Fees are $5 for men and women singles, $8 for all doubles and $4 for all other singles.

Individual awards will be given to first and second place winners. All matches will be two out of three sets with nine point sudden victory Tie-break at six-all.

The facial expression tells the tale as this Tuesday afternoon golfer at Hunsley Hills putts on the ninth green. This time the ball finds the hole and is shown dropping out of sight.

Tri-State Tourney Entry Forms Available: First Tournament For WTSU Team

Tri-State Open Labor Day Tennis Tourney, which will be held August 31-September 2 in Amarillo and Canyon, will be the first competition for Coach David Kent's WTSU tennis team.

The tournament will begin on the second day following the players' return for the fall semester at WTSU.

Kent said that the team will be working hard during the early fall as they prepare for a mid-January collegiate tournament that will be held in Honolulu, Hawaii. The WTSU team received an invitation to compete in the Hawaiian tournament following their capture of the Missouri Valley Conference crown last spring.

Kent said that he will miss his top three members of his 1973-74 team. Bill Marsh, John Phillips and Dale Corbin will not return to the team this year because of their graduation from the local university.

Kent will have four returning players of which three are lettermen from last year's team. Kent said that it will be a tough year since North Texas State University did not lose any of its players from last year. NTSU is a strong favorite for the MVC crown this year.

Returning to WTSU this year will be Steve Johnson who will be a sophomore. Johnson was the Tri-State doubles champion in 1973, having teamed with Bill Marsh. Dana Caledonia from La-Jolla, Calif., will also be returning. Brett Hall of Houston and Jay Gross of San Angelo will also be returning.

Other players that local residents will see for the first time include Samuel Nunez from Mexico, Bobby Kleinecke from Galveston, Todd Reed from Winfield, Kan., and Wayne Marsh from Arkansas City, Kan.

Nunez is the 1973 National Junior College singles champion. Nunez, from Mexico City, will be a junior this fall. The 6-4, 150-pounder compiled a brilliant 32-6 record at Central Texas Junior College in Killeen last spring. Nunez has beaten such competition as Dale Corbin, last year's number one player for WT, Graham Whaling of Texas, Danny Dobbs of Baylor and Jerry Garcia of North Texas State.

Nunez will come to WT after having played in a number of tournaments during the summer in Mexico and in this country.

Reed is the Kansas State High School Champion in singles and doubles for the past year. Kleinecke is a four-time Catholic State Doubles Champion. Marsh is a junior college standout.

Singles matches in the Tri-State tournament will start at 9 a.m. August 31. Doubles will start the second day. All girls and women matches will be held at the WTSU courts. All men and boys matches will be at the Amarillo Tennis Center.

The tournament will be open to players ages 12 and over. There will be divisions for men and women singles and doubles, 12 and over, 14 and over, 16 and over and 18 and over for boys and girls singles and doubles. There will also be father and son, husband and wife, 35 year old and over men and women singles and doubles, 45 year old and over mens singles and mixed doubles.

Entries must be submitted prior to 9 p.m. August 28. Entry forms may be picked up at the Amarillo Tennis Center and at the WTSU tennis office located next to the security office on the WTSU campus.

Winners In Hunsley Tourney Announced

Sixty-two players were entered in the Hunsley Hills Partnership Tournament held at the Hunsley Hills Golf Course this past weekend.

Eugene Cryer and Barry Hayes of Borger won the tournament with a 137 for the two days of competition. Myron Dees and Reese Manning were second. The team of Mark Harvey and Doug White were third with a 140. There was a tie for fourth place between the team of Winston Orio and Eddy Kilmer and the team of Dan Bently and Greg Anderson. Both teams had a 141.

In the handicap round, Bill Lancaster and Harry Dalton placed first. Ed Aiton and Mike Hughes were second. There was a two way tie for third place between the teams of Johnny Young and Rudy Rudisell and Charles Bucola and Glen White. Fifth place went to David and Frank Levens.

Four Canyon Youngsters Participating In West Texas Tennis Camp

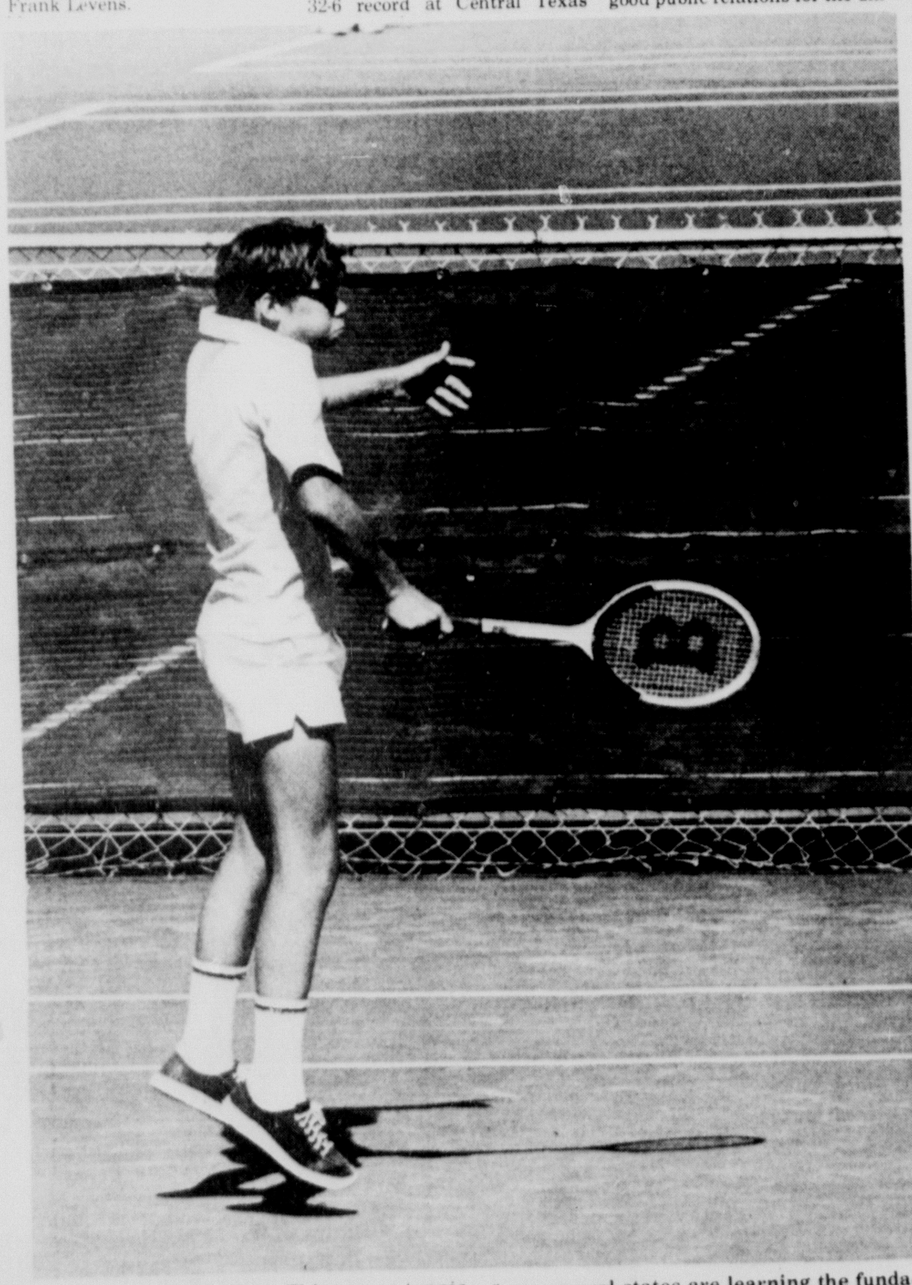
Four Canyon youngsters are among the 122 campers at the West Texas Tennis Camp which is being held at WTSU July 28 - Aug. 3. Campers from Canyon include Bob Watkins, Vanesa Cotton, Todd Kent and Tray Kent.

Campers for the third session have come from Virginia, Oklahoma, New Mexico and all across the Texas Panhandle. The largest representation at the third session has come from Lubbock and Midland.

David Kent, head tennis coach at WTSU and director of the tennis camp, feels that the camp is good public relations for the university. He also feels that he is having an opportunity to work with prospective players for future WTSU teams.

Campers at the school get individual attention plus needed sessions on strategy, drills and training methods. Kent is assisted in the training sessions by leading collegiate players and coaches in the Southwest.

Cost for the camp is $135 which includes room, board, instruction and all activities in which the campers participate that are sponsored by the school. There is a waiting list of students who wish to take part in the tennis camp.



Body English does help. This young tennis player gives a big effort to keep the ball in play during a match with a friend. Young from several states are learning the fundamentals of the game at the West Texas Tennis Camp now in progress at WTSU.

Buffalo Season Tickets Going At Slow Rate In Canyon

Canyon residents bought 282 season tickets to WTSU Buffalo football games last year. So far this year season ticket sales to Canyon residents have been slow.

According to Tommy Bryant, sports information director at WTSU, season ticket sales to Canyon residents are normally slow for some unknown reason.

Only seventeen of last year's season ticket holders have said no to renewal.

Among those who have renewed, there is a spirit of support for the Buffs. Businesses as well as individuals are renewing season tickets according to Mrs. Mary Greiner, who is in charge of ticket sales. According to Mrs. Greiner all the doctors at Neblett Hospital and all officers at the First National Bank are season ticket holders. There are other businesses in town that may be added to the list.

Fred Begert, who graduated from WT in 1955, said that one reason for his renewal is the attitude of the coaches as individuals and their attitude on the playing field. Begert's next door neighbor is a coach at WT. Begert also feels that WT will have a better team than last year's 2-9 season. Begert has held on to season tickets for the past 10 years.

Having had season tickets for the past 18 years, Jerry LaGrone said that he has always enjoyed going to WTSU games. He said that he has always been very impressed with WT both athletically and academically.

Roland Black and his wife chose their 50 yard line seats when the new stadium was built and have held on to the seats through the years. Black feels that Canyon should back the Buffs. Black, who was a student at WT from 1937-39, was a member of the boxing and swimming team. He said that he has developed a wait and see attitude toward the coming season.

Hugh F. Greiner has also had the same seats since the building of the new stadium. He stated that Canyon people should renew their season tickets or become season ticket holders. He said that he is not all that crazy about football but he feels that the Buffalo games are among the finest activities that Canyon people can get involved in. He said the games are something one can attend and participate in while enjoying the outdoor atmosphere. Greiner said that if he had to sit in another place other than the seats he has had during the past years, he would not feel comfortable. Greiner said that he did not miss a game during the season last year.

Golf Association Has Tourney: Elects New Officers

Today is the second day in the first Hunsley Hills Golf Association Tournament held at the Hunsley Hills Golf Course. Golfers, who are members of the association, are also voting for officers and directors for the organization during the two day tournament.

A slate of officers and directors have been nominated for the members of the association to elect. Space will also be provided on the ballot for write-in candidates. Nominees are president, Myron Dees; vice president, David West; secretary-treasurer, David Levens; and directors, Eural Ramsey and Jack Haley.

Wood To Speak At Palo Duro Services

Dr. Robert Splawn, associate professor of education at WTSU, spoke Sunday morning, July 28, to 103 people assembled in Palo Duro Canyon for religious services.

On August 4, Ronnie Woods, business manager for Canyon Independent School District, will bring the morning message. Kenneth and Louise Baker will provide the music.

The Cottonwood Grove at Water Crossing No. 5 provided the chapel for these worship services.

J. C. Newton, director of the mission, extends an invitation to all campers, park personnel and visitors to attend the open air services.

Two Canyon Coaches Resign To Take Positions

John Morrow and Diana Lewis, both assistant girls basketball coaches under Bob Schneider at Canyon High School, have resigned to take head coaching jobs at 2-A schools.

Morrow, who was at Canyon for the past two years, resigned to become head girls basketball coach at Post, Texas. Prior to coming as assistant coach at Canyon, Morrow had coached at Greenwood, Tex. He was out of coaching at the time he came to work with the local team.

Ms. Lewis has worked with the Canyon girls for the past three years. Prior to coming to Canyon, she had coached at Bastrop, Tex. She will be head girls coach at Abernathy High School in Abernathy.

Barry Huey has been hired as a new assistant girls coach at Canyon High School. According to Coach Schneider, Huey has not moved to Canyon as yet but will be here before the school year begins.

Huey was head girl's basketball coach at Whiteface prior to being hired by the Canyon Independent School District.

Iris Growers Attend Convention In Amarillo

At least three Canyon iris growers will be in Amarillo Sunday for a lecture sponsored by the North Plains Iris Society.

Mrs. C.C. Callarman, Mrs. Joe Frank and Mrs. Downing will attend the lecture, which will feature Hooker Nichols, a student who has become an expert in growing of irises.

The lecture will be at 2:30 p.m. and the public is invited.

Canyon Club Sets Golf Tournaments

Two golf tournaments are set for Canyon Country Club during the month of August.

The first tournament will be a nine hole Scotch foursome Aug. 4. Entry fee for the tourney will be $5 per couple plus green fee if not a member of the club. A fried chicken dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. to entrants. Golfers may play their nine hole round at any time during the day Aug. 4.

The second tournament will be a 36 hole medal play invitational. Entry fee will be $25 per person.

According to Dude Kincade, golf pro at the club, the tennis courts should be open sometime during the month of August. The courts are presently under construction.

Visiting

The Robert Sawvells and a neighbor, Virginia Allen, spent several weeks this summer vacationing and seeing the sights in England, Scotland and Wales. Enroute back to Canyon, the Sawvells and their daughters toured the midwestern states including Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

With cool temperatures Tuesday, golfers lined the course at Hunsley Hills to take advantage of the pleasant day. Wednesday and Thursday Hunsley Hills Golf Association is sponsoring a two day, nine hole tournament. A golfer of the week will be chosen and his name will be placed on a plaque which will hang in the pro shop. Also officers for the golf association will be picked during the two day affair.

Grandmothers Host Brunch

Miss Cynthia Byars was honored by her grandmothers, Mrs. Huelyn Laycock of Canyon and Mrs. Elmer Byars of Pampa, as they served a brunch Wednesday morning in the Laycock home, 2619 4th Avenue, where hostesses for prenuptial events honoring Miss Byars were the special guests.

Receiving guests with Miss Byars and her grandmothers were Mrs. Donald Ray Byars of Canyon, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Jack Brooks of Brownfield, mother of the prospective bridegroom. Miss Byars and her fiance, Jack Shadid Brooks, are scheduled to be married Saturday morning in Canyon.

The brunch tables were laid with a turquoise cloth and held napkin rings decorated with lily of the valley, wedding bells and tied with pink ribbon. Bisque figurines surrounded with baby's breath centered the brunch table where guests were served ham, banana bread, coffee, fruit cups, asparagus and tea casserole dishes.

Two aunts of the bride-elect, Mrs. Raymond Laycock of Pampa and Mrs. Kenneth Laycock of Canyon, were among guests at the affair.

Among the two dozen guests were prenuptial hostesses including Mrs. Wm. B. Davis where a miscellaneous bridal shower was held for the bride-elect; and Mrs. Jerry Lehnick who held a "spice and gadget" shower in her home with co-hostesses Mrs. Terry Landrum and Miss Susie Lair; and Mrs. Manly Bryan in whose home a couple's party was held last Saturday evening with co-host couples including the Harold Erwins, Bill Sternenbergs and Tom Lairs.

Forum Group Coffees Here

Canyon Junior Forum officers met in the home of Mrs. Gene Glazener, president, for a coffee Monday morning at which time special guests were Eleanor Deckard, school nurse, Posey Wright and Hazel Sunderman, librarians at Rex Reeves Elementary and Canyon Junior High School, respectively.

The coffee was held as an informal discussion session for the group since Junior Forum is a service oriented group which has the public schools as a major project. Officers attending with Mrs. Glazener were Joan McCasland, Jane Stephens, and Linda West.

Plans were discussed and goals for the coming year were the main subject of the meeting. Although unable to attend, the librarians, Elizabeth Wilson of Gene Howe Elementary, Jean Lair of Rex Reeves Elementary and Jackie Patterson of Canyon High School, had previously sent their recommendations via a Junior Forum representative member.

Miss Lindley Sings At Littlefield Church

Armetha Lindley, a member of Calvary Baptist Church of Canyon, was a guest singing at both morning and evening services at the First Baptist Church in Littlefield last week end. Miss Lindley, daughter of the D.C. Lindleys of Canyon, was in Littlefield visiting with relatives.

MISS ROMA JOHNSON, 16, was an entrant in the 'World Ideal Miss Pageant' held recently at Baylor University in Waco. She is shown with a souvenir plaque and the pageant handbook of entrants which included 182 beauties in the worldwide contest.

Miss Johnson Will Remember Fun Filled Beauty Pageant

Although Roma Johnson didn't walk away with the crown of "World Ideal Miss" at the beauty pageant held on the campus of Baylor University July 22-27, she came home to Canyon with many "fond memories of the competition and the friends made at the event."

Miss Johnson, 16, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roland Johnson of Canyon. She was qualified to participate in the contest at the Amarillo Ideal Miss pageant held last spring.

As contestant number 81 (of 182 entries), Miss Johnson was judged in talent competition, sportswear modeling and evening gown modeling alongside her competitors. The pageant winner, Miss Donna Kirkpatrick of Little Rock, Arkansas, was contestant number 87 and became 'pageant friends' with Miss Johnson.

Roma did a tap dance to the tune of "Hello Dolly" for her talent competition and the winner, Miss Kirkpatrick, also did a tap dance selecting the tune "One Fine Day" for her number.

Named as 'Miss Talent' was Linda Phillips, the entrant from Hayward, Calif., who did a ventriloquist act with her mouse 'Pipsqueek'. She had appeared on television programs previously and the first alternate was Cathy Twitty (daughter of country music star Conway Twitty). Second alternate was Rhonda Jordan of Lufkin, Texas; third alternate was Ivon Hinojosa of Matamoras, Mexico; fourth alternate was Maurine Matthews of Ozark, Alabama. Susanne Anderson of Coon Rapid, Minn., was selected 'Miss Photogenic' for a $500 scholarship; DeGina LaCour of Sacramento, Calif., was selected as 'Miss Congeniality'; and Miss Hinojosa of Mexico was the recipient of a $500 scholarship as the essay winner.

The winner received a $1,000 International Scholarship Fund which will be matched with a $1,000 scholarship from Baylor University for study there. The winner, Miss Kirkpatrick, was also presented with luggage and wardrobe and will receive special recognition at the annual 'Little Miss' pageant to be held in Baton Rouge, La.

Miss Johnson returned to Canyon filled with plans to "possibly re-enter through the Amarillo Ideal Miss pageant again next year if she qualifies." She will be a junior student at Canyon High School this fall and has been re-elected twirler for the CHS Band and vice president of the junior class. Miss Johnson will also be a member of the CHS Student Council and plays cornet with the CHS Band. She is currently serving as vice-president for the Les Amies Junior Club which involves high school girls in federated clubwork.

While at the beauty pageant, Miss Johnson was a booster for the outdoor musical drama "TEXAS." Her trip was sponsored by the First National Bank of Canyon, Cooper's Thriftway and the Canyon Kiwanis Club.

Bride-Elect Is Honored With Shower

Miss Sheryl Jones, bride-elect of Gene Brown, was feted with a miscellaneous bridal shower Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Ham, 3310 Linda Lane, Canyon.

Receiving guests with Miss Jones and Mrs. Ham were Mrs. Walter Jones, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Noble Brown, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Guests were registered in the bride's book by her sister, Miss Terri Jones, and another sister, Annette, and friend, Camela Balcomb, presided at the refreshment table serving lime sherbet, ginger ale and individual party cakes.

Covered with a cutwork table cloth, the refreshment table was centered with a wicker basket filled with calico print flowers which was a hostess gift to the bride at the conclusion of the event.

Co-hostesses were Mesdames Leroy Pitt, Lewis Tucek, J. A. Edwards, Ralph Ruthart, Henry Wiggins, Clarence Howard, Paul Cornett and Tom Platt.

PTA 'Work Night' For Playgrounds

"Work night" for members of the Rex Reeves Parent-Teacher Association and friends of the school will begin tonight, Thursday, at 7 p.m.

"We need lots of help to clean up the grass burrs, goatheads and other weeds on the playgrounds before school gets underway," said Mrs. Don Sheets, PTA committee chairman.

"If we have enough workers with their hoes present to get the weeds out of the way before dark, we may do some more painting on some of the existing playground equipment," she concluded.

Family Vacations

Calvin Rashall, pastor of the First United Pentecostal Church of Canyon, and his family have just recently returned from a few days vacationing in Houston, Texas. In Rashall's absence, his father, Rev. G.C. Rashall, was in charge of worship services at the church here.

WILLIE AND JOHN Butler and Angelique and I traveled to Austin to the OES reunion of "Key Charms and Jones Boys" and the 1971 Grand Family. Angelique and I traveled with Willie and John. We left on Friday morning and arrived in Austin in time to attend the barbecue at the home of Past Grand Matron Frances Key Herrin and her husband, Frederick. Around 350 attended the evening festivities. These were Eastern Stars from all over Texas. "Key Aides" from Austin, both men and ladies helped with the serving.

We checked in the Villa Capri on our arrival in Austin and the first two people I saw were two I served very closely with, Anna Dell Quebee from Lockney and Algus McCarley from Big Spring. Although neither are far away, I had not seen them for some time.

Later, Bobbie Little from Wichita Falls flew in. We four were the only deputies from this district at the reunion. When Bobbie and I learned that Algus and Barbara Dailey were going to return to Big Spring the next morning, we went by and visited them until 1 a.m. We promised to try to see them Oct. 10th at Big Spring. Algus is hosting a party for Victor Jones, our Past Grand Patron and chairman of the Educational committee of General Grand Chapter.

The next afternoon we toured the LBJ Library, which is just across the parking lot from the motel. This is a most interesting tour but this day made even more so by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cargill of Lee County who had just won first place with their float in the parade there that day and still had on their Robert E. Lee confederate uniform and the dress of a Southern lady. This couple was chosen to advertise for Lee County before the bicentennial. Mr. Cargill has a gray beard and bears a remarkable likeness to General Lee. He even had to check his sword at the front desk to tour the library. The couple added much to the tour.

We donned our long dresses and suits and ties for the banquet on Saturday evening. They served prime steak broiled medium and medium rare — more than you could eat. It was delicious. The program included slides of past homecomings and reunions.

Sunday morning a breakfast and devotional concluded the week end. Our own Key Charm, Willie Butler, presented both Past Grand Matron, Frances Key Herrin, and Past Grand Patron, J. Victor Jones, a Living Letters Testament of the Bible bound in brown leather for their reading.

Willie Butler also presented Frederick Herrin, "The Worthy Grand Husband" and Mrs. J. Victor Jones, Josie, a bumper sticker which read "BEEF EATERS ARE BETTER LOVERS."

This reunion will be held in Galveston in 1975 and in Big Spring in 1976. Since Big Spring is in our own district, I'm expecting all 10 deputies to be there. It would also be a good time to have all 15 Key Charms there from this section. Santa, take notice.

Great Plains Conservation Program To Continue At 1974 Level

Bill Casteel, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Canyon, stated that authorization to continue operations of the Great Plains Conservation Program at the same level as 1974 has been granted.

The Great Plains Conservation Program was designed by Congress in 1956 as an additional tool for conservation districts in stabilizing agriculture and economy of the vast Great Plains area which was severely affected by the "Dust Bowl" days of the 1930's.

The program places priority on areas subject to severe wind and water erosion and on areas where a change in land use is needed.

The Great Plains program provides needed help to groups of farmers and ranchers who are unable to solve conservation problems working separately. It encourages the conservation of range cover and crop residues to reduce erosion, improve the soil and stabilize the whole operation unit.

Some of the practices cost shared through the program are grassed waterways, terraces, diversion terraces, irrigation pipelines, land leveling on cropland, grass seeding, cross fences, ponds and dams, livestock water wells, water storage tanks, brush control and pipelines for livestock water on rangeland.

Since the program began in Randall County, 163 contracts have been written and carried out or in the process of completion on 135,000 acres. Work done on these units consists of 5,700 acres seeded to grass from cropland, grassed waterways on 28 acres, 110 miles of parallel terraces, 60 miles of diversion terraces and 500 acres of land leveling for better distribution of irrigation water.

Fifty livestock water wells and water storage tanks have been installed on rangeland and 42 ponds have been dug for improved livestock water distribution. Over 6,000 acres of brush has been controlled on rangeland.

J.R.C. Vincent is examining native grass, side-oats granna and blue granna, which was seeded in 1972. The grass was seeded under the Great Plains Conservation Program on severely eroded land. The 62 acres seeded will be restored to profitable use as grazing land. The Vincent farm is located one mile west and one mile south of Canyon.

Conviction Upheld

The conviction of David Crawley of Amarillo for malicious destruction of property was upheld last week by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said the court, in its opinion upholding the conviction, noted the case was a classic in the use of extraneous offenses.

Crawley was convicted earlier this year on the charges, which stemmed from the deliberate wrecking of several cars in Amarillo.
